SHOE REPAIRING

Our Forefathers worked and prayed together. Clinging together and helping one another they showed the true spirit of Reciprocity. They were as one ideal family. After the weariness of work and cold and starvation one winter and the work of planting, caring for and harvesting the crops for another winter, they found they had an abundance for the long winter months. So that they gathered in prayer and thanksgiving for the complete winter stores they had, and for the God-given strength they had which enabled them during the pleasant spring, summer and autumn months to plant and grow and harvest this abundance of goods. It was this forethoughtedness which not only made the first Thanksgiving Day a day for prayer and feasting, and the many Thanksgivings which have followed, but it laid the very foundation of our wonderful America, and our American people.
When one thinks of the great good this little band of Puritans accomplished with little or nothing, it suggests the good we, who out-number them by thousands, may accomplish by forethoughtedness and reciprocity to our little band of home folks in our home town. By buying products from our own merchants, manufacturers, grocers, farmers, business houses, etc., we create within ourselves the knowledge that we, each and every one of us, may help in a greater way to make the Southwest truly great, simply by nationalizing and boosting home goods. And in after years we may reap the harvest of a Great and Glorious Southwest, and we may truly participate in Thanksgiving.
